Original data: United States of America, Bureau of the Census. Fifteenth Census of the United States, 1930. Washington, D.C.: National Archives and Records Administration, 1930. T626, 2,667 rolls.

Description:

Containing records for approximately 123 million Americans, the 1930 United States Federal Census is the largest census released to date and is the most recent census available for public access. The census gives us a glimpse into the lives of Americans in 1930, and contains information about a household's family members and occupants including: birthplaces, occupations, immigration, citizenship, and military service. The names of those listed in the census are linked to actual images of the 1930 Census.

When Margie Cunningham was in the ninth grade her English teacher assigned her the name of a girl in Omaha, Neb., as a pen pal. Because of correspondence that has continued for nearly 20 years.

They met for the first time when Margie and her husband, John Dethloff, visited the friend and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Johnson, in 1948. The visit was a great success. The Dethloffs loved the farms operated by the Johnsons and their families.

Brodna gripes

By JOHN SURRATT

Mississippi Press Staff

PASCAGOULA — Jackson Co. Supervisor Tommy Brodnax lashed out at The Mississippi Press this week, claiming county officials had not billed the paper for copies of public records and the paper's statements about him were biased.

Brodnax's comments came Monday during a discussion of the county's open records policy.

The county's policy requires people seeking copies of public records to file a written request and be billed in advance at 50 cents per page for each document. Department heads also require a $25 deposit.

Under the state's Open Records Act, local governments can develop their own reasonable written procedures concerning the cost, time, place and method of access.

Brodnax claimed the policy was followed, adding county employees allegedly released some records to the Press reporter without billing the paper "because they didn't want to be a victim to his poison-pen tactics."

"There's been a violation of this policy," he said.

He would not mention specific records.

Brodnax's comments come in wake of several stories that appeared in the Press in August involving a request for $325,000 administrative budget that included a raise for the secretary and hiring two additional employees.

The information came from records acquired under the county's open records policy.

"Mr. Brodnax's comments are base. We have paid for public records," he said.

Brodnax

According to the letter, which Brodnax sent to the west coast on several occasions, he kept his official office at the Jackson County Courthouse.

"We could find nothing improper about him going to the county to return phone calls," according to the letter.

But investigators said they documented at least two occasions where "Mr. Brodnax told the recorders what to do, and in another case, tried to order a paving project."

"It is our opinion that this constitutes a continued pattern of

Drunken driver sentenced for fatal accident

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — A drunken driver who killed eight members of the University of Wyoming's cross-country team in a head-on collision last year has been sentenced to 14 to 20 years in prison.

"I know of no criminal act in the history of this state that has resulted in so much loss, so much pain, so much heartache and so much waste for so many people," District Judge Jeffrey A. Donnell said Thursday.

The cross-country teammates were returning from Fort Collins, Colo., early the morning of Sept. 16, 2001, when Clinton Haskins' pickup veered into their lane 17 miles south of Laramie. All were dead by the time help arrived.

Haskins, who also was a student at the university, was ordered to pay $81,042 in restitution to the families of the victims and fined $8,008 by Donnell.

Haskins, who had consumed several beers and mixed drinks before the crash, had a blood alcohol level of 0.16 percent.

Haskins pleaded guilty Feb. 7 to eight counts of aggravated vehicular homicide.

Ferrill Cemetery

The Ferrill Cemetery is located west of Robinson Cemetery, west of Wemberly St., on the west side of Highway 613 in Escatawpa, Mississippi in Section 9, Township 7, Range 6. Originally compiled by Mrs. A. G. Shampine, March 15, 1971. (Requiem: Vol. III). Updated by Harry McDonald, Sr., 1994. Information on lost and unmarked graves by Mrs. Maud Dixon Lynd, Mrs. Mamie Lynd Hamilton, Mrs. Charles H. Purdy, Mrs. Foster Barrow; Mrs. Jesse Lennep, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Canfield, Ed Nelson's Bible and research of obituaries and death certificates by Harry H. McDonald, Sr. Many graves that had previously been marked or with a slab do not exist. Clean-up crews after Hurricane Camille removed broken slabs and apparently some tombstones.

PHS graduate overcomes adversities

■ To be awarded a full tuition-paid scholarship to Ole Miss

By DEBBIE ANGLIN
Mississippi Press Staff

PASCAGOULA — Pascagoula High School graduate Kevin Klasky is a survivor. Even though he has lost four members of his immediate family in the last 14 years, Kevin is looking forward to the future as he heads to the University of Mississippi on a $24,000 Lucky Day scholarship that is awarded to students based on need.

"Without the scholarship, I probably wouldn't be going to college," Kevin said.

In the face of a life filled with adversity, Kevin said he has found strength and comfort from his friends and their families whom he has known since he was a young child.

"I have two really great cousins and I have the greatest friends," Kevin said. "I love all my friends and they have helped me through a lot."

Kevin was only 5 when his mother, Adrienne Klasky, was killed by her ex-husband, Michael Graham, on April 7, 1989, at the intersection of Pascagoula Street and Jackson Avenue.

Her death stunned the community. She left behind two young sons. Graham was convicted of murder and is serving a life sentence.

"I don't really remember much about that day," Kevin said. "I was at Bethel Christian Academy in the gym when they came to get me. I don't even remember who it was."

Klasky

The young boy was taken to his "Nannie's" home where he went everyday after school. There, he was told his mother had died.

"I didn't really understand it all at the time because I was so young," Klasky said.

He and his older brother, Michael, went to live with their maternal grandparents, Lyle and Barbara Klasky. Lyle Klasky was a well-known businessman in the city and former owner of Brumfield's.

"Then, my grandmother died when I was about 8 or 9 and soon after that my aunt, Sydney Klasky, came to live with us and help my grandpa with us," Kevin said.

Kevin grew up attending Pascagoula schools, first at Beach Elementary and then at Trent Lott Middle before going to Pascagoula High School.

But during his freshman year, tragedy struck again. Within months of being diagnosed with cancer, Lyle Klasky succumbed to the disease, leaving his daughter Sydney Klasky to take care of the two teens. But her health was not the best as she battled lupus and fibrosis in her lungs.

About two years ago, older brother Michael joined the U.S. Army and is stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C.

"After Michael left, it was just the two of us," Kevin said.

As Sydney Klasky's health began to deteriorate, Kevin juggled school work and hospital visits that increased intensely during the past four months.

"It's been a crazy year," Kevin said. "I've have had a lot going on with all this college stuff and trying to get everything ready and going back and forth to the hospital."

Sydney Klasky wanted to attend her nephew's graduation Thursday night at War Memorial Stadium. But hours before he was to walk with his class, she died at Singing River Hospital.

"I know Kevin realizes that Sydney is with him in a much bigger way now, and that she did see him graduate," said Renee Hague, whose daughter, Laura, is Kevin's girlfriend.

"We just love Kevin," Hague said. "He is such a spiritual person. He is courageous and compassionate and the first to help anyone who needs help. He just wants to make good out of everything that has happened to him."

Amazingly, after everything that has occurred in Kevin's life, he is not bitter.

"Yes, I have grieved for those I have lost, but I have mourned and then I have put it away," Kevin said.

"I have come to realize that there's not much you can do about these kinds of things because what is going to happen is going to happen."

But Kevin has not been alone to face each tragedy. Not only have Kevin's friends provided him with support, but many of their parents have become surrogate parents to him.

"Kevin has had more traumas, more to cope with than any other student I have ever worked with," said Deb Banahan, a PHS counselor. Her son, Johnny Banahan is one of Kevin's friends.

"A lot of people would have given up and felt sorry for themselves, but not Kevin. He has never felt sorry for himself; he just keeps going. He cares a lot about his education and how others perceive him.

NEXT STEP — After graduating from Pascagoula High School Thursday, Kevin Klasky is looking forward to his next step in life.

He's just a great guy."

Kevin describes himself as a strong person.

"No matter what had happened in my life I think I would have turned out the same," he said. "I've always tried to do my best and by what I have accomplished, I know my family would have been proud of me."

Fingerprints found on murder weapon

Witnesses identify Graham

By DON BROADUS

Mississippi Press Managing Editor

Two county maintenance workers who were stopped at a red light at the intersection of Jackson Avenue and Pascagoula Street when Adrienne Klasky Graham was shot to death last Friday morning identified her as the man driving a pickup, apparently from which

Robert Auth and Craig Taylor, county workers, pointed at the car in the eastbound lane at the intersection when the shooting occurred across Pascagoula Street from where they sat.

"Look at that sonofagun coming at us in the wrong lane," Auth said he told Taylor when he saw the gray Dodge pickup truck approaching.

"He stopped beside the black car, pointed an object at it and I saw glass blown out of the car," Auth said. The witness said he could not identify the object as a gun.

"What did you think had happened?" public defender Tom Fortner asked on cross-examination.

"What I thought happened, happened, but I couldn't make myself believe it," Auth answered.

At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing in county court Tuesday morning, Judge Bill Jones bound Michael W. Graham over for action of the grand jury. Fortner did not ask Jones to lift his previous no-bond order.

Besides Auth and Taylor, County Prosecutor Sid Cumbest called two police officers at the hearing. Fortner did not call any witnesses.

Taylor, who was diving the county maintenance vehicle, said he looked up when Auth remarked about the vehicle coming in the wrong lane. "I heard a noise. I thought it was a backfire."

Both Auth and Taylor said there were "two or three" vehicles in front and in back of the black Lincoln in which the victim was sitting at the red light. They said the Dodge pickup, traveling in the wrong lane, passed the cars, turned left on Pascagoula Street and back left on Convent Avenue. "He was in no hurry," Auth said.

The county workers notified their base radio station of the See MURDER..... Page 8-A shooting and continued east on Jackson Avenue. Auth said after the hearing their purpose was to locate the suspect's vehicle.

Auth and Taylor spotted a Dodge pickup at the intersection of Market and Convent Avenue and radioed its license plate number to their base station before returning to the murder scene.

Neither witness could identify Graham as the driver of the pickup at the Pascagoula-Jackson intersection, but Taylor pointed to Graham when asked to identify the driver of the truck at Market-Convent. He estimated the truck was at Market-Convent two to three minutes after the shooting.

Detective Sgt. David Tucker said officers located the Dodge pickup in the parking lot at the Market Street office of Pascagoula attorney Donald Sigalas, about 200 feet south of the the Convent intersection.

Tucker said he found a 12-gauge Remington 1100 shotgun under a towel on the floorboard of the truck. He also said there was a spent 00 buckshot shell in the truck and unfired shells in the chamber of the gun.

He said the gun was recovered less than 15 minutes after the shooting.

Detective Lt. James Hunter said fingerprints taken from the gun were made by the defendant.

The victim and defendant were divorced in 1986 but had made several appearances in domestic court since then. Mrs. Graham had obtained an injunction which prohibited Graham from harassing her and family members and just two days prior to the shooting had filed a petition in which she alleged, among other things, that Graham threatened to kill her.

The police department and sheriff's office maintained tight security for the Tuesday hearing. Persons entering the courtroom were required to submit to a metal detection test.

Lyle Klasky, father of the victim and owner of Brumfield's Department Store in Pascagoula, sat through part of the hearing.

Charged with murder

Michael David Graham, 33, is being held without bond in the Adult Detention Center, charged with the Friday murder of his former wife, Adrienne Klasky Graham.

Mrs. Graham was killed instantly about 10:15 a.m. Friday morning when Graham fired one blast of 00 buckshot from a 12 gauge shotgun into her car, stopped at the traffic light at the Pascagoula Street-Jackson Avenue intersection.

Police Chief Bill Pope said Mrs. Graham was driving west in her automobile on Jackson Avenue beside Merchants and Marine Bank and was within a few yards of Pascagoula Street when her former husband, driving west in a pickup truck, stopped beside her automobile.

Both were still in their vehicles. He pulled up behind her and when she slowed down, he pulled into the oncoming lane and fired out the right side of his truck into the driver's side of her car. The blast blew out the car window and hit her in the left temple, killing her instantly," Pope said.

Mrs. Graham, 33, daughter of Pascagoula businessman Lyle Klasky with whom she was associated in business, is survived by two sons. Visitation is scheduled for Sunday night from 6 to 8 p.m. at O'Bryant-O'Keefe Funeral Home. Private funeral services will be held Monday.

After the shooting, Graham drove away from the scene, headed south on Pascagoula Street, and then to the office of his former attorney, Donald Sigalas on Market Street.

Sigalas accompanied Graham to the sheriff's office to turn himself in.

Sigalas told The Mississippi Press that he was not representing Graham.

"I have represented him in the past in domestic matters with his ex-wife, but we haven't been in court now for months and months. It was over with probably the middle of last year.

"As of that time, I have not seen or talked to him since the last time we were in the courtroom, and I have not seen him since then.

"He came to my office Friday morning and asked what he should do. I advised him to go to the sheriff's department, and accompanied him there, but I did not, and do not, represent him," Sigalas said.

Officers of the Pascagoula police department took custody of Graham soon after he appeared at the sheriff's department. Capt. Larry Lee, director of the department's criminal investigation division, is heading the investigation. Officers said Graham's vehicle, which he had abandoned on Market Street, had been impounded. The 12 gauge shotgun, believed to be the murder weapon, was found in the truck.

Prior to ordering Graham held at the ADC without bond, Judge Jones advised Graham of his rights which include a preliminary hearing if he so desired.

Graham and his wife had been in and out of chancery court numerous times since their divorce was granted June 27, 1986, with the latest being a contempt motion filed against Graham this past Wednesday by his ex-wife's attorney. The motion alleged that Graham had threatened to kill his former wife.

Also, Graham's family had signed an affidavit in chancery court this week asking that he be picked up for a preliminary See GRAHAM.....Page 12-A ▶ psychiatric evaluation, and officers made three attempts Thursday to pick up Graham at his home in Pascagoula.

The contempt motion filed Wednesday by Mrs. Graham's attorney alleged that Graham drove Mrs. Graham and members of her family off roads on occasions, and had attempted to intimidate her by following her in his vehicle and driving recklessly and dangerously. On some occasions, her children were in the car with her.

The motion said Graham had spit on Mrs. Graham in public places in the presence of their children, and had also spit on her vehicle and vehicles of her family. Graham was also accused of making harrassing telephone calls to Mrs. Graham at home and work, as well as calls to her family and friends.

Court records disclosed that Graham was sentenced to 90 days in jail on June 10, 1987, for violating terms of a protective order which had been issued by the chancery court on March 31 of the same year. He was released from jail after having served 30 days of the sentence.

In March, 1987, the court ordered Graham to pay medical bills for Mrs. Graham after he attacked her.

The protective order was issued because of Graham's "violent and erratic behavior," which had placed Mrs. Graham in "immediate physical danger of future harm," according to court records.

The protective order enjoined Graham from continuing to harass, threaten or intimidate Mrs. Graham at any time or place, whether in public or private.

In addition, the court ordered Graham to obtain counseling at his own expense from Singing River Mental Health Services, and also to undergo a mental evaluation known as the Minnesota Multiphase Personality Inventory.

Sigalas said circuit judges

Clinton Lockard and Robert Mills told him that anything Graham may have told the attorney when he went to his office Friday morning "is probab confidential and falls under t attorney-client relationship, a that I should not discuss it.

"If the judges determine tha am needed as a witness, I w seek a ruling from the b association as to what my ro will be."
